22, HYDE PARK GATE,
S.W.

1

My Violet.

This Evening he has had a bad attack of sickness again. We don't know what it is - but thinks it may not mean anything. Anyhow Rigby comes tomorrow morning - & we shall know more. I believe we have got through the worst & whatever happens now won't be long. But it's a strange world to insist upon them things.
You have been - but I find no
words to express Son.

Take great care of yourself,
& come back fresh. We will telegraph
news. Yr AS.

NYPL

22, HYDE PARK GATE,
S.W.

Dear Nicol

Father has been wandering very Considerably all the afternoon & evening.
He does now does not know us.
Watson says the poison must have reached the kidneys, & he does not think it possible for him to get any better.
He says he may die tonight. He is to come again later - & 11.30 now, & he will add anything. Father was very restless, talking to himself, but Watson
has given him morphia & that has now begun quietly.
11.30. Watson just been. He says there is no change, & thinks he will probably set through the night.

They give him morphia if he is at all restless, so he has no pain, & simply lies without moving most of the time. With telegraph to-morrow morning. We are sending for Alice.

Don't come, my Violet. There is perfect, & perfect rest. There is nothing to be done. I have been sitting with him - & have me ch-Things quite peaceful. He doesn't take any notice. He seemed a little better this morning. & saw Betty & talked at it came on quite suddenly at Cowley.

2.

NYPL

24
4
240
6
144 0

22, HYDE PARK GATE
S.W.

29th.

My Robt,

Why didn't you come round this afternoon? I arrived safe 2.15. Could'st you lunch tomorrow, or tea a anytime. I have no engagement on Saturday I go to the Quaker anyhow also George & Margaret— So (1st class) to the Darwins. It will be great fun. may bout what I hate starting off again.

I have an article for the Criterion: I think I'll send it now & you can serve it me with it. mark. I don't know if it is any good myself

Why is it "Beastly"?

22, HYDE PARK GATE,
S.W.

29th.

My Robt,

Why didn't you come round this afternoon? I arrived safe 2.15. Could'st you lunch tomorrow, or tea a anytime. I have no engagements on Saturday. I go to the Quaker anyhow also George & Margaret— So (1st class) to the Downing. It will be great fun. not but what I hate starting off again.

I have an article for Lib to criticise: I think I'll send it now & you can serve it me with yr. remarks. I don't know it is any good myself.

Yr. A.

Why is he "Beastly"?

24
4
240
6
144 8

22, HYDE PARK GATE,
S.W.

Dear Violet.

Wilson thinks he is getting quickly weaker, & does not expect him to rally. But can't say any more. He said at any rate he would live through the next few days. He is more comfortable & likes being
up. I am going to the Haldane today, as he wants to. His pulse is bad.

Yours
HJ.

22, HYDE PARK GATE,
S.W.

My Violet

do come tomorrow if you can—
I have not seen you this 6 weeks. Such a rush—
7 people to tea - all talking
for 2 hours on end - news?
must dress for dining with Beatrice & the Ray. but his Leary rather better today, normal.
temp. is still above
Dr. cant find anything wrong—
thanks its poison from the tooth—
but it is, he thinks, going off now.

Ever A.J.